Dear Joe Tran,

We are writing to let you know that Tree Hugger Travel has made a donation to World Land Trust's Buy an Acre Fund on your behalf to help purchase, protect and manage Half an Acre of tropical forest and other threatened habitats in Mexico through WLT's conservation partner Grupo Ecologico Sierra Gorda (GESG).

GESG are co-managers (jointly with the Government) of the Sierra Gorda Biosphere Reserve in central Mexico. This area is one of the most ecologically diverse and important regions in Mexico as it is the meeting point of two bio-regions - the Nearctic from the north and the Neotropical from the south. The altitudinal range (300 - 3,100m) protects a wide range of species including all six species of cat found in Mexico: Jaguar, Puma, Bobcat, Margay and Ocelot. Rare birds that are protected include the magnificent Military Macaw to the second smallest bird in the world, the Bumblebee Hummingbird. 131 other mammal species have been recorded.

We are delighted that our corporate supporter, Tree Hugger Travel, has chosen to demonstrate their commitment to environmental issues through WLT's Buy an Acre Fund and we have pleasure in enclosing a certificate in recognition of this support.

If you would like to receive WLT News by post please let us know that you would like to be added to our mailing list. For further information and updates please see our website: www.worldlandtrust.org which is regularly updated and where you can register to receive our monthly digital newsletter.

We very much hope that you will want to learn more about the work of the World Land Trust in saving some of the world's last tropical rainforests and other threatened habitats.

Should you have any queries, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely,

Claire Millard
Corporate Administrative Manager
